- Each project should include a title and a one-sentence / short paragraph description.
- Personal Statement (200 words) – What are your interest / passionate about / why study in SD?

Physical / Digital Portfolio Requirements [For interview]

Content: The physical portfolio should be very similar to the digital portfolio however it needs to contain:

- Samples of original work including sketches, drawings, paintings, mixed media art work and other relevant works must be included in the portfolio.
- Bring your own device to show videos or any time-based media (if applicable).
- Small models, objects, crafts and 3D media can be presented in the interview (if applicable).

Tips to prepare portfolio/interview

- The portfolio must be organised and structured in a way that is easy to view and to understand. Consider the order of how these projects should be viewed.
- The portfolio should show us the range of your capabilities and skills as well as your creative process and how you develop your ideas.
- Show the range of your skills, in different media using different approaches rather than many similar projects. Show projects executed with a variety of media, approaches and experiments, rather than many projects of the same kind. Personal insights, communication value and creative concepts are emphasised more than technical skill alone.
- Please state if the work is done by group or yourself.
- Projects that are designed for particular purposes and people in mind (design-based) as well as purely expressive (art-based) project may be included.
- You can include both two- and three-dimensional works, as well as interactive and time-based projects.
- Multimedia works like rendering, video and website can be presented by a few significant frames, with a link for “click-to-watch” or a QR code for “scan-to-watch”, or standard web browsers. Large scale 3-D works (e.g. sculpture or installation) can be presented with photos.
- Before entering an interview, double check your device (including microphone, speakers, internet connection) is working.
